

I am a mass communications instructor at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville and host of a weekly radio program. While I strongly advocate access for all to their media, I believe requiring small-market broadcasters to record and archive all local programming would be a debilitating expense while failing to provide any service to the public.

--MMEXa46e75a4e231cb317300e269814951c3--